

Scholar-In-Residence Weekend

March 2 - 4, 2012

Rabbi Jeff Salkin

Three Paths Up the Mountain: An Inter-religious Encounter with Abraham

March 2, 6:30 PM
Rabbi Salkin will speak
during Shabbat services
at Temple Israel

March 3, 10 AM
Family Education Program
with 6th Graders and Parents

March 4, 10:30 AM
Rabbi Salkin will speak
at Trinity Episcopal Church
125 E. Broad Street
Columbus, Ohio 43215

Interfaith Sacred Text Study and Dialogue

Sunday, March 4
3 - 4:30 PM

Noor Islamic Center
5001 Wilcox Road
Dublin, OH 43016

A native of New York, Rabbi Salkin was ordained at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in New York in 1981. He was one of the first Jews to receive the Doctor of Ministry degree from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1991. Rabbi Salkin has served congregations in Florida, New York, Pennsylvania and Georgia, and has held numerous leadership positions in the Jewish world. He founded Kol Echad: Making Judaism Matter, a trans-denominational adult learning center in Atlanta, Georgia.

Co-sponsored by

Trinity Episcopal Church

Temple Israel

Noor Islamic Center

With support from the Columbus Jewish Federation and the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio